“My True Life Story and Inspiration”

A workplace injury • An amputation • And hand-pump bottles that just wouldn't stay put.

After losing my left hand in a traumatic work accident, the instability of the hand-pump bottles on the market became a source of increasing frustration for me on a daily basis.

I knew there had to be a better way.

What started as personal frustration became a mission:

Create something stable, portable and easy to clean & designed for everybody — not just the able-bodied.

That mission became The Bottle Station. Roy R.
